

---

You Have Your Grandma's Smile
How to teach children about the grandparents they never

1,293 words (one sidebar)

This article helps parents to teach their children about grandparents that have passed away. It's done with humor, practical suggestions and real-life anecdotes. This piece strives to bring healing to the parents and rich rewards to their children.

---

Thanks Mom, It's Been a Great Year

923 words (no sidebars)

If anyone deserves a thank you note, it's your readers! This article provides a long-overdue "thank you" to all moms.

---

To My Baby, With Love
Treasures await when you journal to your children

579 words (no sidebars)

I began journaling to my eight year old son the night before he was born. This article explains the concept of journaling to your children, and highlights its many benefits.

---